ChiroCredit, LLC Now Offers Continuing Education Seminars by Telephone Conference Calls

ChiroCredit, LLC is now offering TeleSeminars for Chiropractic Continuing Education Credits. These one-hour weekly seminars are being offered by way of Live Telephone Conference Calls.

Sponsored by the University of Bridgeport College of Chiropractic, TeleSeminars are yet another way in which Chiropractic Continuing Education is catching up with other professions in having a variety of ways to obtain continuing education other than in traditional classroom.

“Our TeleSeminars have been approved for Continuing Education credits in many states,” stated Paul Powers, DC, CEO of ChiroCredit, LLC. “We have already enjoyed a two year history of providing the highest quality online continuing education courses available on the web at our www.ChiroCredit.com website. TeleSeminars are going to allow Doctors of Chiropractic from all over North America to participate in a live seminar, communicate with the instructor and share ideas, all while avoiding travel costs and time away from their practices and family” Powers stated.

TeleSeminars are being offered in a diverse amount of topics including, but not limited to Diagnostic Imaging, Occupational Health, Nutrition, Physical Diagnosis, Sports Medicine, Orthopedics and Rehabilitation. Each TeleSeminar is going to last for one hour and ChiroCredit, LLC will offer them during midday and evening hours.

Dr. Powers continued by saying “This is a great opportunity to enhance the continuing education of the Chiropractic Physician by offering the most up to date and clinically relevant information available. For example, if the Doctor needs 12 hours of continuing education, by being able to take a courses in a variety of topics, the Doctor will have a more well rounded continuing education experience than attending one 12 hour seminar in only one topic”.

For more information, please visit the www.ChiroCredit.com website where you may quickly and easily register for courses.
